- Change management

2023 Goals

The Education TAG identified 4 goals for 2023....but this does not mean we can't add or replace these goals with feedback from you.

Goal 1

Develop an in-person training opportunity to be offered twice annually at a host facilities.

Goal 1

Possible 2023 Continuing Education offerings:

Truck and Coupler Inspection:

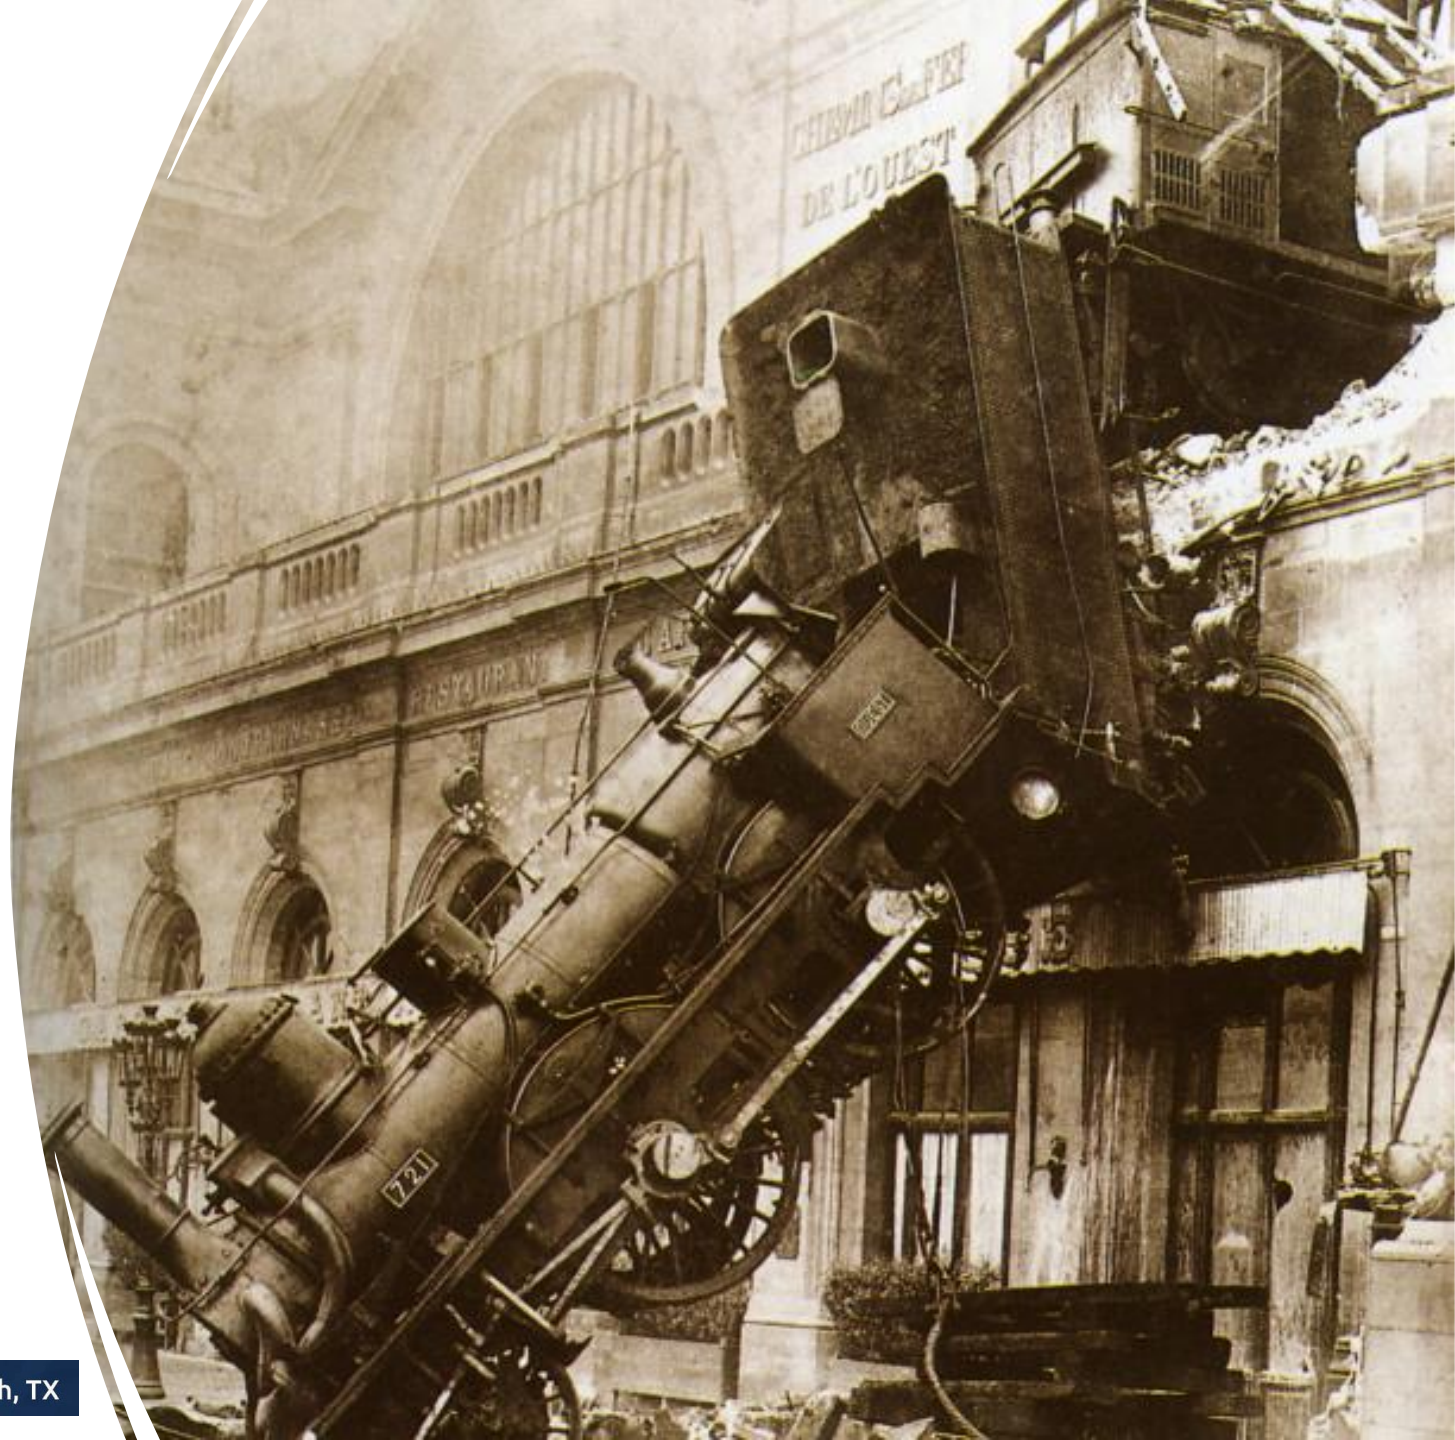

This training will cover regulatory and performance requirements, general inspection techniques, as well as reconditioning methods and best practices.

Goals 2

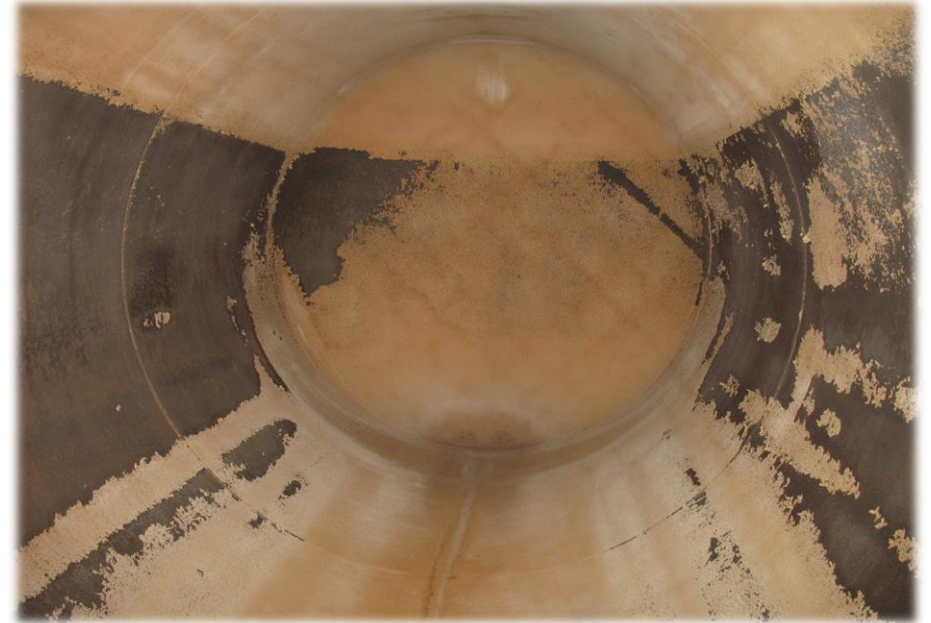

Develop and deliver two education courses, either in-person or via webinar.

Possible 2023 Goals 2:

Coating (AMPP-NACE):

The education course will identify tooling requirements, proper instrument handling, car-preparation, coating application, product inspection and lifecycle expectations.

Possible 2023 Goals 2 (continued):

Qualifying Suppliers and Subcontractors:

The education course will distinguish suppliers from subcontractors, explain applicable regulatory and industry requirements, identify industry performance, and offer best practices for achieving compliance.

Goal 3

2023: Contribute three articles to the RSI Quality Newsletter. The Newsletter has been a great resource for RSI Members.

RSI Quality Newsletter

Volume 9 | 1st Quarter 2022

Have an Idea for an Article?

Please submit your drafts to Gary Alderson at alderson@alltranstek.com or Alfredo Ricardo at ricardo@alltranstek.com.

Welcome to the ninth edition of the RSI Quality Newsletter, a quarterly publication covering a broad array of industry topics based on reader feedback. The goal of the RSI Quality Assurance Committee is to ensure that these newsletters will both educate and inform our readers on quality topics, methods, tools, and services.

A critical piece of this newsletter continues to be your feedback, so please let us know what articles you would like to see so that we can increase the value of these newsletters to you.

Inside this Issue

- Part Qualification in the Railroad Industry: A Union Pacific Perspective (Part 2)
- AAR Tank Car Facilities - Current

Goal 4

Investigate and potentially develop training content appropriate for achieving Continuing Education Units (CEUs).

C.E.U.
CONTINUING EDUCATION UNITS
